

PORT ARTHUR WARSHIPS TO MAKE A DASH DEMOCRATS IN SESSION AT SANTA CRUZ

DEMOCRATS MEET AT SANTA CRUZ

Edward White May Not Stand for Chairman.

He May Be Placed on the List of Electors on State Ticket.

SANTA CRUZ, Cal., Aug. 22.—The prospect of a struggle over the chairmanship of the State Democratic Convention gradually dwindled this forenoon.

In the early morning the leaders of the Democratic League were positive in the declarations that Edward White of Watsonville would appear to oppose the candidacy of Sadore Dockweiler of Los Angeles, but the McNab contingent were equally emphatic in asserting that Mr. White was out of the race and would not permit his name to go before the Convention. Mr. White shortly before noon said to the Associated Press correspondent:

"I will not come to a final decision on this matter until the balance of the delegates arrive. If it develops that Mr. Dockweiler has a majority of the delegates I will not be a candidate, and it seems that Mr. Dockweiler has control. He made his fight long before my name was mentioned in this connection."

A proposition was advanced this morning to placate the league faction by nominating Mr. White an elector-at-large and it was favorably received on all sides. A caucus of the Southern California delegates was held this morning, and with the exception of one delegate the meeting voted to cast the 100 ballots in that section of the State in favor of Dockweiler.

The exception was a personal friend of Mr. White. The Sacramento delegation of 26 delegates decided to favor White. The attendance of delegates, up to the arrival of today's train from San Francisco, had not met the expectations of the local committees and it was hoped that the last arrivals would help give volume and some spirit to the rather listless gatherings about the hotel lobbies.

Despite the division of the Convention into factions, there is little or no promise of contests in the various districts and unless plans are materially changed within the succeeding twenty-four hours the nominations for Congress in the various gatherings will be as follows:

First—A. Camminetti; second, Theodore Bell; third, Ex-District Attorney St. Sure of Alameda county; fourth, E. J. Livernash; fifth, William P. Winn; sixth, Judge Conley; seventh, W. Owen Morton; eighth, William Smythe.

For electors there is not the same certainty, as the possible entry of Edward White into the list may cause a readjustment of the previously prepared program. From the Southland comes the only semblance of a mild contest for electoral honor and here four or five names are frequently heard.

They are Herman W. Hellman, Robert J. Adcock, Eugene Germain, John W. Mitchell and W. O. Mulvaire.

The list of electors put forth by the wise ones to-day included Thomas Bair of Eureka, Fred Cox of Sacramento, John Garber of Berkeley, Henry Fortman and James G. Maguire of San Francisco, Dr. Beebe of Stockton and Henry Fisher of Redlands.

DAMAGE TO CROPS
EXAGGERATED.

NEW YORK, August 22.—Failing to obtain its usual amount of crop damage tonic in the Northwest today on account of wire trouble, wheat acted weak and heavy, declining 3 cents a bushel before midday, with everybody selling it and only a few scattered shorts to buy the staple. The impression here was that the events would show the Northwest damage news to have been considerably exaggerated.

HIS ASHES SCATTERED TO THE WIND.

LATE JOHN A. McDONALD. Suicide John McDonald's Last Request Carried Out By His Friend.

BERKELEY, August 22.—On the summit of Grizzly Peak, the highest promontory in the vicinity of Berkeley, Deputy Coroner J. E. Straightif scattered human remains to the winds this afternoon, carrying out the last request of John Allen McDonald, a suicide. Little or no ceremony was employed as the contents of the copper urn were thrown into the air, to be scattered for miles over the valleys below.

ENDED HIS LIFE.

It was on October 9 of last year that the body of McDonald was found in the rear of his store on University avenue, near Sixth street, by J. E. Gentry. The deceased had been missing for three days and when a close examination was finally made of his premises it was found that he had ended his life by shooting himself twice in the heart and right temple.

UNREQUITED LOVE.

That McDonald had contemplated self-destruction for some time was shown by a long note he had written, this last episode also constituted his will. It directed that $100 he had on deposit should be given to Miss Anna Thiam, a young woman with whom he was madly in love, but who did not reciprocate his attentions.

Another clause in the testament read: "I want John Straightif to conduct my funeral—cremate my remains and scatter them to the winds."

While McDonald did not designate the place where his ashes were to be given to Acolus, Deputy Coroner Straightif thought Grizzly Peak would be the most appropriate place. The walk to the peak is long and tedious, but the official did not shrink the duty that was entrusted to him.

COPPER URN IS LOST.

Even the copper urn that contained the ashes as they came from the crematory was lost in one of the cavernous recesses of the hills back of Berkeley. At that now remains to keep green the memory of McDonald is the following card that was attached to the copper urn:

"John Allen McDonald. Born in Scotland, 1868. Incinerated October 11, 1903."

horizon at about 6 in the morning, approached to within about five and a quarter miles of the shore, and bombarded Korskovsk (until) 8:15, when the vessel turned and disappeared. The damage done to the town was quite inconsiderable. There were no casualties.

UNDER THE FIRE OF JAPANESE.

Mikado's Men Turn Loose on Town of Korskovsk.

ST. PETERSBURG, August 22.—The emperor has received a report, dated yesterday, from the Russian commandant at Korskovsk, Island of Sakhalin, as follows:

"Since 7 o'clock this morning the enemy has bombarded Korskovsk. The government houses have been destroyed. One of the enemy's ships anchored on the

RUSSIA WILL NOT GIVE UP.

REFUSES TO OBEY THE COM- MAND OF THE CHINESE.

SHANGHAI, August 22.—The meeting of the foreign consuls here to-day resulted in the preparation of the statement of the established facts regarding the Russian warships Askold and Grozovoi. The Russian authorities show a disinclination to reconsider their refusal to comply with China's demand that the two ships leave Shanghai or disarm.

STORMING RUSSIAN FORTRESS.

Stoessel Making a Brave Defense Against Japs.

Port Arthur Fleet Is to Make Another
Dash.

ST. PETERSBURG, August 22, 3:37 p. m.—The storming of Port Arthur, which the foreign dispatches says is progressing, is riveting all attention. The brave, stubborn resistance which General Stoessel is making, is evoking high praises; the war office and public are hoping almost against hope that he will be able to hold out in spite of the heavy odds against him. The latest news, that the Japanese are unable to obtain a foothold at Louisa bay and at the most westerly fort of the inner defenses, is considered encouraging.

An official dispatch from Rear-Admiral Prince Ouktomsky at Port Arthur, by way of Che Foo, says that only two officers were killed on board the ships which returned to the harbor after the fight of August 10, but his information about the condition of the ships is not satisfactory, the Admiralty explaining that he probably avoided going into specific details owing to fear that the dispatch might fall into the hands of the Japanese.

News that the Port Arthur squadron has again sailed out is expected at any hour, as Prince Ouktomsky's orders are imperative to go out or destroy his ships beyond the possibility of repair before the fortress falls.

The loss of the gallant Nothik in a fight against two Japanese cruisers at Korskovsk, Island of Sakhalin, is not yet known here as the authorities are awaiting the report of Vice-Admiral Skrydloff before making the news public. The cruiser, by her exploits, had endeared herself to the whole country and her loss will create a more sentimental effect than that of any ship in the fleet.

The report from Shanghai to the effect that Rear-Admiral Prince Ouktomsky had arrived there on the protected cruiser Askold, August 12, proves to have been untrue. A private dispatch to the Associated Press from Shanghai today says that Admiral Ouktomsky has not been there.

FIERCE BATTLE IN PROGRESS.

Japanese Receive Rein- forcements Before Fortress.

CHE FOO, August 22, (9 p. m.)—It is asserted in reliable quarters at Port Arthur that the Japanese have received reinforcements of 30,000 men from the north.

The steamer Victoria, which arrived this evening from New Chwang, reports witnessing spasmodically heavy firing at Louisa and Pigeon bays, respectively northwest and west of Port Arthur, between 10 o'clock last night and 1 in the morning. She saw searchlights playing freely and sky-rockets signaling at 1 o'clock this morning. The ship was too far away to hear or see anything further.

HOP-PICKING.

SANTA ROSA, Cal., August 22.—Hop picking has commenced and general picking will be started about September 6. The growers will realize handsomely.

METCALF REFUSES TO CONSULS TALK POLITICS. MEET AT SHANGHAI.

SECRETARY V. H. METCALF. The Secretary Says He is Here Solely on Private Business—Coast Busi- ness Men to Banquet Him.

Secretary Metcalf was busy in his law office with his private affairs early this morning. He arrived from Washington last night, coming by way of the Union Pacific. He shows little signs of his recent illness, but was faded from hard work and travel. He said he was tired out when he left Washington, and did not sleep well on the train.

The Secretary declined to talk politics and emphatically denied the telegraphed story that he returned from Washington to supervise the Republican campaign on the Pacific Coast.

"I came solely to arrange my private business," he said, "not on a political mission. As I was called to Washington hurriedly to take a position in the Cabinet, I had to leave my personal affairs in an unsettled shape. I am here to put them in proper shape. It will probably take me a month to do so, and when it is done I shall return to Washington where my official duties are demanding attention. I have already declined a number of invitations to be present at banquets and political gatherings because I have no time to attend them. The story that I came out here to do politics is nonsense, but if I have time and can arrange it, I may deliver one political speech before I return East—no more."

I will say this much about politics, though," he added with a smile, "The Republicans of this district have nominated an excellent candidate for Congress in Joseph R. Knowland. He is a splendid fellow—clean, able and energetic. He will make his mark in Washington or I am mistaken in him."

It is now proposed to make the banquet in Secretary Metcalf's honor, in San Francisco, a coast affair. It will be entirely non-partisan in character, and the invited guests will be representative men of all parties from the entire region between Puget Sound and San Diego. Mr. Metcalf is averse to the idea of having the affair made local or be given a partisan complexion. He desires to address himself to the business interests of the coast irrespective of party or locality, as he feels that he is sitting in the Cabinet peculiarly as the representative of the Pacific slope. He is already giving some attention to the preparation of his address for the occasion which will mainly be devoted to the progress of this section of the Union. No date has yet been set for the banquet, which will take place some time in September. Prior to that time Mr. Metcalf will be given a reception of welcome by the Union League Club of Oakland, but the occasion will be non-political.

THREE FACTORIES FOR OAKLAND.

Excellent Work of Supervisors Brings Big Returns to This City.

Three separate plants for the manufacture of bricks, tile, imitation marble and building stone, the material to be taken from magnesite deposits in the Livermore foothills, are to be built immediately on the Oakland water front, the site to be somewhere between the wire works in East Oakland and Adams wharf. Such was the promise made to the Board of Supervisors this morning by H. C. Stillwell, general manager of the American Magnesite Company. Further, the Supervisors were assured by the representative of the company that the plants when completed, would cost fully $150,000 and would give

sponsible for the Warships.

Representatives of the Powers Discuss
Issue.

SHANGHAI, August 22.—John Goodnow, the American Consul General, who is dean of the consular corps, presided at the meeting of the foreign consuls held here today. All foreign countries with consulates here were represented. M. Odagiri, the Japanese consul, and M. Kleinmeyer, the Russian consul, were in attendance. M. Odagiri left a sick bed to attend the meeting.

He made a vigorous protest against the presence of the Russian cruiser Askold and the torpedo-bout Grozovoi in Shanghai harbor and declared that China had failed in her duties as a neutral power. He asserted that the Japanese had the right to take the independent step of entering the harbor and seizing the two vessels.

The attitude of M. Odagiri was warlike and uncompromising. M. Kleinmeyer protested against the entering of the harbor yesterday by a Japanese torpedo-boat destroyer and insisted upon the right of the two Russian warships in question to remain and repair damages.

A suggestion made by the British consul to refer the entire matter to Peking was adopted. In the meantime the work on the Askold is to cease for forty-eight hours and no further steps are to be taken by the consuls, who will await instructions from their respective governments.

It was unanimously decided by the consuls that China cannot shirk her responsibility as a neutral state by handing this matter over to the consuls for adjustment.

Nor Rear Admiral Stirling, U. S. N., nor Consul Goodnow has been instructed by Washington as to what course to pursue. Consul Goodnow has done his utmost to bring about a peaceful settlement and he has full confidence of the foreign residents in the matter of protecting the settlements in case the Japanese should attack the Askold and the Grozovoi.

The British fleet is expected to reach here tomorrow.

WANTS CHICAGO RESTRAINED.

CHICAGO, August 22.—Former Judge Moran appeared before Judge Brentano this afternoon and filed a bill for an injunction restraining the city of Chicago from interfering with the housing of strike breakers in the stockyards. The bill is brought in the name of the G. H. Hammond Company.

TERRIFIC HAMMERING OF RUSSIAN WARSHIPS.

Gromoboi and Rossia Were Raked By the Fire of the Japanese Vessels.

VLADIVOSTOK, August 21.—(Delayed in transmission.)—The Gromoboi and the Rossia present shattered appearances. Their smokestacks show great rents, while the masts, bridges and ventilators look like shreds and there are marks of battle everywhere.

VESSELS DAMAGED.

Guns are dismantled, boats shattered and there are enormous holes in the cruisers' hulls, through which a man could easily pass. Many of the cabins were completely wrecked. Some of the Japanese shells performed queer actions. On the Rossia a shell burst in a clothes cupboard. Garments therein were torn to shreds but a mirror was not scratched. Photographs and knickknacks on a writing table near by were not disturbed. In another part of the cruiser the walls were blackened by the smoke of a fierce fire in which eight men were burned alive, yet an almanac on the wall was not even scorched. Aboard the Gromoboi a shell entered the wardroom and wrecked the furniture but a parrot cage was untouched.

BRAVE MEN.

All the officers are full of praise for the coolness and bravery of the men who died in the battle without a murmur. Comrades took their places without awaiting orders. It was deadly work on the upper deck, where the gunners were without protection, and shells striking, burst in to a thousand fragments, killing and wounding men until the deck became a veritable shambles, strewn with dead and dying and slippery with blood. Not a single gunner protected by casemates lost his life. The value of protective armor was demonstrated whenever shots struck the armored portion of the vessel.

PRaise FOR CAPTAIN.

Many deeds of heroism were displayed during the five-hour battle, but the greatest praise of all belongs to Captain Dabich of the Gromoboi, who remained at his post on the bridge from the beginning to the end of the fight. When wounded in the back, he persisted in resuming command directly the wound had been dressed, but, yielding to the entreaties of his officers, he sought shelter in the conning tower.

No sooner had he entered than a shell struck the foot of the tower, glancing upward to the overhanging cover, and entered through the peephole, killing a lieutenant and again wounding Captain Dabich in the head and breast. Not a single man in the tower escaped. There being no one to steer the ship, the captain, severely wounded though he was, dragged himself to the wheel and managed it until another quartermaster had been summoned.

I AM ALIVE.

Subsequently learning that the men were depressed by the fact that he had been wounded a second time, the captain in 1-12, after the second dressing, on being supported along the decks to the command, encouraging the sailors, saying: "I am alive, brothers. Go on smashing the Japanese."

When Captain Andreieff of the Rossia ascertained that only three out of her twenty big guns could be fired, he coolly gave orders to get explosives in readiness, to sink the ship. Captain Andreieff is usually nervous, but in battle he was cool as a cucumber. When not giving orders he was cheerfully conversing with the gunners at their stations.

CAPTAIN KILLED.

Captain Brulinsky was killed by a splinter which struck him on the head at the outset of the fight.

Lieutenant Molos also distinguished himself. A shell entered the compartment where he was directing the fire and set fire to the deck on which a number of charges were standing. Then came an eight-inch shell which scattered the charges and caused a terrific explosion, which threw the men in every direction and hurled Lieutenant Molos on the upper deck. Fortunately he fell on a heap of dead bodies and escaped with severe bruises.

Dense fire and smoke were then pouring out of the compartment, but Lieutenant Molos did not hesitate for a moment. Calling for volunteers, he plunged headlong into the flaming compartment and succeeded in putting out the fire.

Another officer, followed by a number of sailors, brought a hose and played water upon Lieutenant Molos and his men while they were removing the unexploded charges, regardless of the fact that they might have exploded at any minute in their hands.

Only one of the dead was brought back—Captain Brulinsky, of the Rossia. His remains lay in a coffin near an ikon of the Saviour, the glass frame of which was smashed. The image, however, miraculously escaped.

All the others who were killed were buried at sea, a farewell salute being fired as the bodies were slid over the ship's side.

THEY ARE WIDOWS.

The women of the Rossia and Gromoboi who survived are cheerful. They responded to the greetings of Vice-Admiral Skrydlov with joyful hurrahs. On board the Buriik were 14 officers, a priest and 57 petty officers and 700 men. The wife and daughter of Captain Troustchik and the wives of Engineers Evanchik, Surgon and Soutokh, who are here, are half crazed with grief and despair.

Within the three mile limit on July 16, when the forts fired four times across her bows. She refused to stop, according to the story that was called from the Foo shortly after the occurrence, and four shots were then fired into her side. As she still continued to steam ahead, a Russian torpedo boat destroyer ran out and sank her.

HIPSANG SINKING A WANTON ACT

MANY CHINESE KILLED AND WOUNDED ON THE BRITISH STEAMER.

SHANGHAI, August 22, Night.—Evidence given before a naval court today shows the shelling and sinking of the steamer Hipsang by the Russians to have been a reckless and wanton act. (The British steamer Hipsang, which belonged to the Indo-China Steam Navigation Company, limited, was sunk by the Russians off Pigeon bay early on the morning of July 16.) The name of the torpedo boat destroyed which sunk the Hipsang is not known. No provocation of any kind for the sinking of the steamer has been given. She was on her regular course from New Chang to Che Foo and her lights were burning brightly. There were seven Europeans and 83 Chinese on board the Hipsang. The Europeans and 69 of the Chinese were saved unhurt. Nine Chinese were wounded and three were killed on board the vessel. One Chinese is missing and probably was killed. Another was drowned by the capsizing of a boat.

The Chinese was passing Pigeon Bay

MEXICAN WOUNDED BY KNIFE THRUST.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., August 22.—As a result of a row last night between two Mexicans, M. Precado and Gilberto Cervera, the latter is in a hospital badly wounded by a knife thrust and the former is in jail, having been caught by mounted policemen, after a long chase. The quarrel resulted from a dispute over money matters, the two men came to blows. Cervera fell and Precado fled. The wounded man is in a serious condition, the cuts penetrating the pleura on the right side.

PERSONALS.

Mrs. H. A. Tubbs of Oakland is visiting her sister, Mrs. C. E. Kelly at Nome. The two will shortly leave for a visit to the St. Louis Exposition. A private letter from Coy Leach, formerly of Oakland, but now keeper of a hotel in Council City, Alaska, states that business is good in the Nome country. Mr. Leach has recently returned to the mines from an extended tour of the Eastern States.

MINERS MEET IN NORTH.

Delegates Will Discuss Matters of Importance to the West.

PORTLAND, August 22.—President J. H. Richards of Idaho dropped the maunzanta gavel that called to order the seventh annual session of the mining congress at 10 o'clock this morning in the presence of about 1500 people. Many of the delegations from throughout the United States have not yet arrived and the attendance is conservatively estimated for the later sessions of the week at from 2000 to 2500.

George H. Himes, secretary of the Oregon Historical Society, presented President Richards with the gavel, made of maunzanta wood cut in Rich Gulch, Jackson county, the first mining district of the State. It is banded with gold from the placers of the gulch, bearing the engraved history of the gavel, date of the Portland session and its presentation.

The convention was opened with prayer in which Rev. Father McDevitt invoked the care of Providence on the assembled representatives of the mining industry. On behalf of the State of Oregon, Governor Chamberlain welcomed the delegates and visitors.

Mayor George H. Williams of Portland followed on behalf of the citizens of the Rose city.

Responses to the addresses of welcome were made by States, by J. T. Small of Maine, O. W. Powers of Utah, H. C. Cobb of Texas, J. P. Callbreath of Colorado and Hon. J. Daggett, of California.

Secretary Mahon announced the appointment of the following committees, selected by the board of directors:

Resolutions—Dr. E. R. Buckley, Rolla, Mo., chairman; Prof. J. E. Talmage, Utah; E. G. Reinhart, Colorado; Col. Thomas Ewing, California; J. E. Watson, Oregon; C. L. Dignowity, Pennsylvania; J. T. Small, Maine; John Daggett, California; H. C. Hamilton, Colorado; F. W. White, Ohio; F. V. Drake, Oregon; Prof. E. Havorth, Kansas; O. W. Powers, Utah; J. F. Callbreath Jr., Colorado; M. D. Leachey, Washington; Col. James H. Lynch, Montana; C. W. Dorsey, Nebraska; T. A. Rickard, New York; E. B. Braden, Montana; C. F. Emons, Washington, D. C.

Credentials—Philip S. Bates, Oregon, chairman; M. P. Gilbert, California; R. C. Patterson, Nebraska.

It was announced that one of the inducements offered by Salt Lake City on behalf of its selection as permanent headquarters of the congress will be a building site on Fourth and South streets, facing the city and county building of the Utah metropolis valued at $20,000 and a pledge of additional cash consideration that will go forward to the erection of the building and maintenance of the headquarters.

BUILDINGS WRECKED BY TORNADO.

BRYANT, N. D., August 22.—A tornado in this vicinity wrecked many buildings. Mrs. H. S. Hilling was killed, her daughter was fatally hurt and a number of other were seriously injured. It is reported that Wallow Lakes were entirely destroyed, but the report is unconfirmed. The damage to crops is heavy.

LIPTON TO HAVE ANOTHER YACHT.

GLASGOW, August 22.—Sir Thomas Lipton has opened negotiations with Denby for the building of Shamrock IV, providing George L. Watson & Co. will consent to design another challenger for the America's cup.

POWERS WILL ACT TOGETHER.

United States Will Not Act Alone at Shanghai.

SHANGHAI, August 22.—Rear Admiral Stirling says that the trip of the American torpedo boat destroyer Chauncey from Wooking to Shanghai yesterday was to carry despatches. Her movements had no connection with the arrival of the Japanese torpedo boat destroyer.

PROTECT PROTECTOR.

WASHINGTON, August 22.—It is asserted positively at the Navy Department that the American fleet at Shanghai is not charged with the protection of Chinese neutrality by any special instructions.

The officials here are convinced that the Japanese have no intention of violating Chinese neutrality, and furthermore that they would not jeopardize the immensely valuable foreign interests of Shanghai by making the harbor a naval battleground. No instruction have been sent to Admiral Stirling to interfere with the action of the Japanese officials.

Consul General Goodnow cabled the State Department to-day from Shanghai telling of the appearance of the Japanese vessel in the harbor there. He made no mention of the reported action of the American torpedo boat. The cablegram referred to the valuable American property on the docks near where the Russian cruiser is and also said that the Russian consul general had refused to disarm the Askold.

POWERS WILL ACT.

LONDON, August 22.—This afternoon papers here take it for granted that if any intervention is necessary at Shanghai, the powers will act together in upholding the neutrality of China equally against both belligerents.

MAY STRIKE ON ELEVATED.

WORKMEN WILL TAKE ACTION ON THEIR DEMANDS TODAY.

NEW YORK, August 22.—The question of a strike on the elevated railroad system in Manhattan will be acted on by the men to-day. The men will also learn what action is to be taken by the New York local of the Amalgamated Association of the Street and Electric Railway Employees.

The men have already voted to stand by the action of the executive board of the local, and if a strike is ordered by the board there will be no further action necessary on the part of the men. The men announced that they could press the demand for the preference of the elevated employees in selecting men for the subway, according to the promise which was made to them over a year ago.

Officials of the Interborough Company say the employees will have to stand their chance in competition with others who may apply for positions.

CARLETON DENII'S BEING MOB LEADER.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., Aug. 22.—A. E. Carleton, mine owner and bank president of this city, was interviewed by a correspondent of the Associated Press concerning the report that he had been charged by J. C. Higgins and others of the men who were deported from this district Saturday night, with having directed the work of the mob of 2,000 miners. Mr. Carleton did not deny that he had a hand in the deportations but took exception to the statement that he was "leader of the mob."

Mr. Carleton justified the deportations on the ground that the men sent out of the district were agitators and emissaries or friends of the Western Federation of Miners.

GREAT RACING IN SOUTH.

Yachts Will Contest For the Lipton Cup.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., August 22.—There is every prospect that the series of races to be sailed off San Diego harbor tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday, for the beautiful Lipton cup, will be the greatest yachting event of the Pacific coast. These races are to be the first of contests which are to take place annually, the yachts to be of the 30-foot class.

Six vessels have been entered for the races and the harbor today is gay with the canvas of home and visiting yachts. The courses will lie off Coronado and preparations have been made for a great crowd of people to view the races from Coronado Hotel.

The race to-morrow is to be over a twelve-mile course, covering an equilateral triangle of two miles to the leg, twice around.

The start will be made at a point off the pier near Hotel Coronado, the first leg lying to the southeast, the second west by south and the third to the northeast, bringing the yachts before the wind on the homeward stretch.

The second race on Wednesday will be a beat of three miles to windward and back repeated. On Thursday the third race will be sailed over a rectangular course of three miles to the leg, the start being made to the southeast and the finish before the wind to the northeast. In the event of no race, the trials will continue daily except Sunday until ended.

1:25 p. m., the starting gun at 1:30 1:25 p. m., the starting gun at 1:30 and the final at 1:35 before which all boats must cross the starting line. The yachts entered are:

Mischief, Captain Folsom; Marie, Captain Wedgewood; Venus, Captain H. Pense, all of the South Coast Yacht Club and Detroit, Captain Gould, of the San Diego Yacht Club, challengers; and the two defenders, the Nackey, Captain Moore and Estrella, Captain Sanders, both of the Corinthian Yacht Club, San Diego.

M'ENERNEY WILL NOT RUN.

THE DISTINGUISHED LAWYER REFUSES TO BE A SENATORIAL CANDIDATE.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 22.—Dr. W. P. Matthews of Sacramento, for many years influential in Democratic politics, came to San Francisco a few days ago expressly to ask Garret McEnerney, the distinguished lawyer, to be a candidate for the United States Senate. Dr. Matthews told Mr. McEnerney that if he would agree to be a candidate, he, Matthews, would run for the Legislature in Sacramento, but otherwise had no desire to be a candidate. Mr. McEnerney declined to be a candidate for Senatorial honors, stating that the pressure of his professional engagements would prevent him from making a campaign or of leaving his business to go to Washington in the event of his election. Dr. Matthews was much dejected. "What are we going to do," he asked, "when the ablest Democrat in the State refuses to be a candidate?"

TO ARRAIGN PANICO TOMORROW MORNING

Tony Panico, an employee of the cannery on First street, who is accused of having stabbed Patrick McGuire with a knife last Friday night, will come up for arraignment tomorrow morning before Police Judge Smith. McGuire is now at the Receiving Hospital.

WIFE WAS THE CAUSE OF THE SHOOTING.

Mrs. Kennedy Will Have to Tell of Her Meeting With W. O. Stewart.

The trial of the charge of assault with intent to commit murder against W. O. Stewart, who, on the night of June 6, shot W. S. Kennedy on the old Briggs ranch near Alvarado in a quarrel over the latter's wife, was begun this morning before Judge Hall in Department No. 1 of the Superior Court. Stewart is represented by Attorney A. L. Frick and Clarke & Clarke, while District Attorney Allen and Deputy Brown are prosecuting the case for the people. The entire morning was spent in securing a jury.

Stewart became acquainted with the Kennedys in the southern part of the State and became friendly with Mrs. Kennedy. The husband, to break up the intimacy, brought her to San Francisco and they afterwards secured a position on the Briggs ranch. A few months later Stewart also came north and one day met Kennedy in San Francisco. The two men talked over their differences and in order to prove who was telling the truth Stewart agreed to accompany Kennedy to Alvarado and confront Mrs. Kennedy.

On the way to Alvarado a plan was arranged by which Kennedy was to summon his wife out of the house to be met by Stewart, who was to talk to Mrs. Kennedy so that Kennedy could hear him without being seen. He was to ask her if she loved him and other such incriminating questions, her answers to them to be the proof Kennedy wanted.

The plan worked until it came to answering the questions. They reached the Kennedy home about midnight. Stewart met the woman when she came to the door and then fell down on his agreement, and instead of talking to her so her husband could hear the conversation, talked in an undertone. Then the rake of Kennedy knew no bounds and he attacked Stewart, who drew a pistol and shot Kennedy. The bullet entered the right leg near the groin and though serious in character did not prove fatal and he recovered.

After the affair had blown over Kennedy was loth to swear to a complaint against him but was finally forced to do so. In the meantime the Kennedys are living in this city. Mrs. Kennedy is assistant cook in a local restaurant here.

ALLEGED ROBBER CAUGHT.

Thomas Scott is Accused of Taking McKay's Money.

Thomas Scott, alias Murphy, wanted for the robbery of Hugh McKay of this city in a San Francisco saloon, was caught last night by Patrolman W. I. Hodgkins after an exciting chase from Fifth and Broadway to Seventy and Webster streets. Scott was pointed out to the policeman by McKay.

Behind the arrest there is a tale of misplaced confidence and the robbery of the same victim twice. Yesterday McKay started toward San Francisco with $170 in gold jingling in his pocket. The glitter of it attracted Scott, who made the acquaintance of McKay on the way to San Francisco. The two men repaired to a saloon at East and Market streets to quench their thirst. McKay deposited $10 in gold on the bar and invited two men, ostensibly friends of Scott, to have a drink. The bartender counted out $9.50 and placed it on the bar. Before McKay could reach his hand for the money his arms were pinned from behind by one of the men he had just treated. In a flash Scott grabbed the coin and darted through the door.

McKay made an ineffectual effort to catch his acquaintance who had suddenly turned thief, and returned to the saloon. A sympathizer turned up in the form of a new acquaintance, Harry Fox by name, who was willing to show McKay the sights of the town, a duty that Scott had forgotten after grabbing the coin.

McKay and his new found friend became bosom companions and trod the primrose path. Both men dined along the way until night overtook them. McKay was very much intoxicated and submitted to being piloted to a room. When he awoke the golden sun was streaming through the windows, but $100 in gold was missing from his wallet. Much saddened by his night's experience, McKay sought out the San Francisco police and told them his tale of misplaced confidence and how sympathy had turned to basest ingratitude.

McKay returned to Oakland and was pursuing the even tenor of his way when he caught a fleeting glimpse of Scott. He notified Patrolman Hodgkins, who made a record sprint and captured his man. Scott will probably be taken to San Francisco to stand trial for his crime.

DEATH OF DAVID JONES.

The funeral of David E. Jones, who died yesterday in San Francisco, will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late residence, 617 Eighteenth street. The deceased leaves a widow, Mrs. Annie Jones and three children, David T. and Lewis Jones, and Mrs. Edwin Maule. He was a native of England and was 53 years of age.

PARKER WILL NOT TALK.

Does Not Believe It Wise to Make Campaign Speeches.

ESOPUS, N. Y., August 22.—It was made plain at Roseton today that there is no certainty of Judge Parker making any speeches in the West in connection with his St. Louis trip or at any time or place.

The principal on which Judge Parker will act in the matter was learned from an intimate associate of the Judge, who said:

"Judge Parker has no faith in the utility of speechmaking for its own sake and will make no speeches anywhere for the mere purpose of appearing in any given locality. He believes a stumping tour by a Presidential candidate to be improper and he will undertake no such tour.

"The only condition upon which he will make any speech anywhere will be the fact that he has some definite thing to say and that he is convinced by his own reason that some given time and place best suits the saying of it there and then. You may say with the utmost confidence that under no other circumstances will Judge Parker make any speech anywhere."

ARCHBISHOP IS HOME AGAIN.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 22.—Archbishop Riordan, accompanied by Rev. Father Charles A. Ramm, arrived here late Saturday night after several months' sojourn in the East, where His Grace has been attending to business in connection with the Plus fund. After several weeks of hard work in Washington, D. C., he visited a summer resort near New York City for the purpose of securing a much-needed rest.

The Archbishop will not remain in San Francisco long, as his physicians have advised him to transact no official business for several months.

During his absence the affairs of the church will be attended to by Archbishop Montgomery.

NEW BOATS FOR LOCAL FERRY SERVICE

Southern Pacific Company Completing Plans for Third Rail System in Oakland.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 20.—Plans for installing the new electric system for the Southern Pacific suburban lines across the bay are well under way.

Engineers are at work upon them and a portion of the five million dollars which Harriman recently authorized Director Kruttschnitt to spend on improvements will go toward the preliminary work.

It has been definitely decided to operate the Berkeley, Oakland and Alameda lines of the Southern Pacific on a third rail system similar to the North Shore railroad, instead of the overhead trolley wire system by which the San Francisco Bay moves its Key Route trains.

When the new system is installed there will also be an improvement in the ferry service. It is said that the company will purchase new boats capable of greater speed than those in use, and that no freight will be carried on passenger boats.

Officials of the operating department today declined to discuss future improvements across the bay.

PACKERS APPLY TO COURTS

Want a New Deal on Behalf of Strike-Breakers.

CHICAGO, August 20.—The packers will apply to the courts for an injunction to prevent the carrying out of the city order that the strike-breakers be no longer housed in the buildings in the Stock Yards.

This was decided upon at a meeting of the legal representatives of all the packing firms, save one, that are affected by the strike.

Agents of the packers hurried about the yards to-day reassuring the non-union men and rushing the work of rehabilitating barracks to be entirely separate from the slaughter houses.

Arrangements were made to bring in tents to cover every available vacant spot for the summer purpose. Small circus tents were sent for to meet the emergency.

Swift's car shops were soon taken possession of by mechanics who began fitting up the place and the same was done with other buildings, apart from the killing department. Every effort was made to prevent a stampede of non-unionists, the packers declare. It was successful and that the exodus was no greater than is usual on Saturdays.

Union pickets reported that the desertions were heavy and that the non-union men were in a state of terror.

OAKLAND GIRL IS MARRIED.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., August 20.—A dispatch to the Tribune from St. Louis says that Harry C. Leisenring, a son of Dr. Leisenring of this city, and Willa Wood of Oakland were married at the World's Fair today. The young people were formerly schoolmates.

CUT HIS HEAD

A car on the Piedmont line of the Key Route system came to such a sudden stop last night that Conductor Otto Morgan, living at 627 Railroad avenue in Alameda, was thrown through the door in front of him and his head smashed through the heavy plate glass window and cut his head in a dozen different places.

HORSES KILLED

Farmer Jumped and Managed to Save His Life.

With a wild leap for life from the seat of his wagon, H. A. Kauffman, a Melrose farmer, escaped an engine at Third and Webster streets this afternoon while horses and wagon were ground to pieces under the wheels of the iron monster.

His escape was miraculous.

In a statement made by him he said: "My view was obstructed by a pile of lumber and I did not see the train until my horses were right across the track. They became excited at the whistling of the engine and I could not get them to move and so had little time to do anything that in order to save myself I jumped across the track and the next instant the engine crashed into the horses. One of them was cut in two. It was a quick jump I made and if I had been a second slower I would have shared the fate of my horses."

Kauffman had been in town and was on his way home. He was driving out Third street and was crossing Webster street just as the 1:45 narrow gauge local was on its way to San Francisco. He says that he did not hear or see anything until he was well on the track and then almost on top of him he saw the train coming. He had little time to think or for action, but saved himself by a quick jump. The train stopped as soon as it could be brought to a standstill and the debris cleared away when it continued on its way.

IN THE POLITICAL FIELD

Bard is Turned Down in San Diego County.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 20.—Frank P. Flint is here looking after his Senatorial interests. He says he will have 12 of the 14 votes from Los Angeles, while Bard can only count nine from south of Tehachapi, counting San Bernardino for him. Bard has received a decided rebuff in San Diego. In the Republican convention a resolution instructing for him was voted down by an overwhelming majority.

Flint says he is willing to let the majority of the legislative nominees south of Tehachapi decide who shall be the candidate of Southern California. Bard declines to consider the proposition.

PRINGLE A CANDIDATE.
E. J. Pringle, formerly of Oakland, is a candidate for Congress in the Fourth district, while Charlie Shortridge is content of winning out in the Fifth.

PRETTY ROW.
A very pretty row is on in the Yuba-Sutter Assembly district, where the Culter-Forbes clique are trying to turn down Assemblyman McLaughlin of Sutter because he refused to stand in with the scheme to oust a woman from the Marysville postoffice.

Sutter has instructed for McLaughlin and a deadlock is promised in the joint convention.

JUDGE LORIGAN.
A successor to Supreme Justice Lorigan is the only State office to be elected this fall. Four superior judges are to be elected in San Francisco.

ACROSS CHANNEL

DOVER, England, August 20.—Three swimmers are attempting to cross the straits of Dover this afternoon, Montag Hoibeln, "Jack" Haggerty and S. W. Greasley. Hoibeln, who has made in the last few years four attempts to swim across the channel, entered the water in a fifth attempt at 4:35 p. m. today, starting from a point near Lyddan Spout, westward of Dover.

Haggerty started from the Admiralty Pier here at 5 p. m. This is Haggerty's first attempt to cross the channel. Greasley will take to the water at high tide tomorrow morning. They all hope to reach Cape Grineson, on the French coast, near Boulogne-sur-Mer, within twenty-four hours. Experts say the conditions are favorable. The sea at night is calm.

NOW FOR THE FINAL TEST

CHIEF FOO, August 20 (4 p. m.)—M. Ikin, the Japanese Consul General at Tien Tsin, who arrived here today on the British steamer Pechili, and who had a conversation lasting forty minutes with the commander of a Japanese torpedo-boat destroyer, which overhauled the steamer of Liaoti promontory last night, says that today's battle which began at daybreak, is directed against the fortress itself. It is taking place along the entire line, and it is Japan's supreme effort, to which the recent battles were but preliminary contests. He added:

"I firmly believe that you can safely say that Port Arthur will soon be in our hands. One after the other of the outer defenses has been taken by the Japanese and the latter have completed their preparations for the grand assault. General Stoessel was asked to surrender. He refused. Now comes the final test."

TRIED TO JUMP INTO WATER.

An unknown man made an attempt to jump off the broad-gauge boat on its 12:30 trip from San Francisco today, but was prevented from so doing by a lady and a gentleman, who, anticipating his thoughts, grabbed him in time to save his life.

The would-be suicide had climbed to the upper deck and was leaning over the railing ready for the plunge when the lady and gentleman caught him. They held him there until some deck hands came and assisted them in getting the man back in the boat.

He would not give his name, but stated that he had a wife and children, that he was troubled with heart disease, had been out of work for some time and had become despondent over his inability to support his family.

BUSINESS WITH A LARGE "B"

PRESIDENT DIXON TALKS INTERESTINGLY ABOUT HIS COLLEGE.

"When Horace Greely said 'Go West, young man and grow up with the country' he was both a sage and a prophet. His fine mind discerned that the land of the Rockies would quickly grow out of its swaddling clothes, and he perceived as well that no one of energy could be on the scene and fail to grow also. But I have a word of advice for the youth of the land which almost makes as much for their material prosperity."

The speaker was Mr. J. V. Dixon, president of the new Dixon College in the new Bacon Building. He paused in his work of directing the placing of some new desks, just arrived, for the comfort and convenience of some new students, also just arrived.

"What is it?" asked the Tribune man.

"It is in that frame over my desk," replied Mr. Dixon, indicating the direction with a wave of his arm. The reporter looked, and lo! upon the wall was spread this legend: "Put your brains in business."

"After the Ten Commandments," said Mr. Dixon, "I know of no other more profitable to obey than his one—to put your brains in business. This is the age of brains and it is the age of business. We're born with one and acquire the other. With a corps of instructors as capable as any you can find in America, and the latest and most approved methods of imparting business knowledge, we are a decided level best to equip men and women for business," he said with a very big B too. "And we are succeeding too!"

With a tremendous S. He turned away for a moment, and the scribbles on the wall above the legend words, "Put your brains in business."

The reporter felt of his head, the place where the brains ought to be, and sighed. "Alas," he murmured, "that I am not one of those youths in the flower of my youth. Then should I have been large in the land."

Mr. Dixon is a young man with iron-gray hair. Tall and lean, with an intellectual countenance, he has a most agreeable personality. He is once the confidence and regard of a student—a most important desideratum. He has seen business as it is in the thick of battle, and has taught business the greater part of his life. His assistants are picked experts in the art of imparting business knowledge.

"We are leaving no stone unturned to make Dixon College the greatest institution of its sort on the Pacific Coast," said Mr. Dixon, "and I expect from our growth day by day it would appear that we have about succeeded already."

"What particular reason do you assign for your rapid growth?" Mr. Dixon replied.

"There are several reasons," was the reply. "First, our curriculum is comprehensive but not overburdened. We teach the academic studies and business. We stop there. Second, we do not overwork the classes. We provide the best instructors and enough of them. We do not use our students as teachers and advertise them as members of our faculty. Third, the system we teach is without a doubt the best for they are preferred in the everyday business world. And to use the well-worn saying, we are strictly up-to-date."

"To understand you will provide a course in advertising."

"Yes—we shall. I believe every business man should have clear ideas about advertising. There are fortunes to be made in industrial advertising, simply because the advertiser is prone to be absolutely thoughtless respecting the deeper principles underlying the art. Advertising is a positive necessity in these days—just as necessary as that a place of business must have a roof over it. We shall place our students in a position to learn the inside facts and principles of the science of advertising. The cost of this course will be trifling for regular students, and will begin with our night school, which opens on September 6th. The gentlemen who will direct this department are actively engaged in the business and have an experience as newspaper man and advertiser covering the greater part of his life, and he is now thirty-five years old. But we shall soon make a more exhaustive announcement respecting this feature of the College."

"I see you announce that the first month is free."

"Yes, the first month is free. We do this simply to demonstrate our superiority. It's our way of proving our worth first. There is no string attached to the offer either. We invite every boy and girl and man and woman who seeks a business education to allow us to prove our superiority as instructors. This trial month shall cost not one cent. That's the best proof we have to offer that we are sincere and confident."

Dixon College occupies handsome and commodious quarters in the Bacon Building, where Mr. Dixon will meet parents and guardians or prospective students themselves and enter particularly into the varied merits of this splendid school of modern business (with a big B).

WILL NOT HAVE HORSES IN RACES.

SARATOGA, N. Y., August 20.—Clarence H. Mackey, who with drew his horse race entries on the death of his father, will not again take up the sport. His colors will not be seen again on the turf. His many business duties in connection with the properties under his control takes up so much of his time that he does not deem it expedient to again enter into active racing.

DR. KEANE IS APPOINTED

SACRAMENTO, August 20.—The Governor has appointed Dr. Charles Keane of Los Angeles as State Veterinarian Inspector to succeed Dr. C. H. Blumer, the latter retiring on account of ill health.

It now transpires that the laughing waiter who was sent to Stockton Asylum under the name of J. D. Wilson was not Wilson at all but F. Triplett and he has a brother on the police force in San Francisco, while Captain J. Caltefer of the State Detective Agency is a great friend of the family.

THREATS AGAINST MRS. MEIN.

GRACE M'NAUGHTON CANNOT APPEAR IN COURT FOR SOME DAYS.

Mrs. Thomas Mein yesterday afternoon received three more anonymous letters threatening her life. She turned them over to her attorney, George W. Baker. After he had made a visit to Grace McNaughton's bedside this morning, Dr. Tisdale announced that it would be at least eight or ten days before the girl would be able to safely appear before Justice of the Peace Quinn for arraignment on the charge of grand larceny of which she is accused by Mrs. Mein. Mrs. Maud Ramsey spent a portion of this morning at her sister's bedside.

Whether or not Mrs. Mein intends to drop the case against the accused girl is still a matter in doubt. The decision rests with Mrs. Mein's attorney, George W. Baker, to whom the evidence in the case has been given and who will determine whether or not it is best to proceed with the prosecution.

WILL BE GIVEN A NEW TRIAL

By a decision handed down by Judge Hall this morning, S. Ardena, who was convicted in the police court on a charge of peddling without a license, is entitled to a new trial as he does not think that the man comes within the meaning of the word peddler as construed by the statute.

OAKLAND TRIBUNE

Tribune Publishing Company.

William E. Dargie, President.

Are There No Honesty and Freedom?

We are not sure we fully grasp the meaning of this from the San Francisco Leader; we are not sure the writer clearly understands himself:

"We wonder if we all have that freedom which our paragraphs and speechmakers tell us of. Free and independent courts, press and judiciary—all excellent things; but are they ours? Every one is free to go to the courts, to be sure, but are the courts free to give honest interpretations of the law. We are afraid that there is a lurking suspicion in the minds of many of our free and independent users of the ballot box that the free courts are but too often dependent on interests that have little regard for the law of the land.

"A free press, too! Yes, free as the wild ass of the desert, or any other beast that 'skowlers the plains.' There is only one way to bring the press into subjection. In its most savage moods it will become quite gentle when a roll of bank notes is thrown into its den.

"But a free judiciary is ours also. In this happy land no one has ever heard of a corrupt judge. 'Every citizen can appeal to the courts for redress of grievances,' and every judge hearing that appeal never for a moment thinks of the social standing of the parties to the suit or the length of their purses. Neither do our judges think of nominations and elections. He has the fear of no Tsar in his heart, like his unfortunate kind in Russia. And so he holds the scales of justice with as even a hand as his patroness. All the privileges of a free American citizen dwindle into insignificance in comparison with this, that, whether he be rich or poor, a poor, struggling mechanic or rich trust magnate, a bloodthirsty unionized miscreant or pin-feathered Citizens' Alliance angel, he can appeal to the free judicial scale, and nobody dares cast in a nickel or a name to affect the balance. And this holds good in all parts of the realm, in Massachusetts as well as in Colorado and San Francisco. Glory be!"

Apparently this denies that there is free speech, free government and a free press in the United States. By implication it asserts that the people of this Republic are no freer and no better governed than the inhabitants of Russia. It broadly infers that the courts are corrupt, the press venal, and the execution of law and the administration of justice directed by ulterior influences, and for unholy purposes. If to be taken in that sense, it is a fearful indictment of popular government, a burning arraignment of the American people. That judges are sometimes corrupt and decisions unjust is unhappily true. But these are the exceptions, not the rule. So long as human nature is fallible and subject to temptations of the flesh such things will be. They are the evils that come with the good, the tares that grow with the wheat, the skippers that get in the ham. Even among the Disciples there was one who betrayed the Lord and sold himself for thirty pieces of silver. Shall the church be condemned because an occasional priest is false to his vows and degrades his calling? Why deem it strange that now and then a judge takes a bribe when the Gospels teach the great truth that among every twelve men there is one villain? Does that prove the race is rotten and honesty dead?

The courts and the officers of the law in this country are what the people make them. They represent the morality of the people. The people mould them at will have power to make them better or worse, can amend the laws if they are unjust, can change their officials if they are corrupt. They are getting just such a government as they deserve, a government of their own making. If they misgovern themselves, it is their own affair. If the people in Russia are misgoverned, it is somebody else's doing. That is the difference between autocracy and democracy.

As to whether the laws are more just and the judges more honest in Russia than they are in America we shall not argue. Whether the autocratic system of Russia is better than the democratic system of the United States we shall not debate. By their fruits ye shall know them.

We do deny, however, that the courts in this country, speaking generally, are controlled by the touch of interest, are pliant to ulterior influence or open to the fee of the briber. We deny that sordid and simony are the rule among officials. We deny that public life in this country is honey-combed with secret corruption. We deny it as we deny Russia is better governed than the United States, as we deny that a free people are incapable of governing themselves and unequal to the task of keeping pure the fountains of justice, as we deny that the human race must give over to despair because it has not sufficient integrity within itself to walk straight.

The attention of Governor Peabody is called to the fact that armed mobs are again driving men out of the Cripple Creek country, looting private property and threatening with death those who dare appeal to the law for protection. The sheriff, who owes his office to a mob which compelled the elected sheriff to resign under threat of lynching, frankly says he is unable to protect life and property against the mob. This condition is what Governor Peabody facetiously calls "the restoration of law and order."

A Washington dispatch to the San Francisco Chronicle says "Congressman Needham of the Southern California district is likely to be appointed on the Ways and Means Committee to succeed Hon Victor H. Metcalf, who resigned to enter the Cabinet." It would be pleasing to the people of this State for Mr. Needham to take Mr. Metcalf's place on the committee, for he is able, experienced and well qualified for the position. But why should the Chronicle's correspondent say he represents "The Southern California district?" There are two Southern California districts—the Seventh and Eighth—but Mr. Needham does not represent either of them. His district is geographically and politically the heart of Central California. It touches the Sacramento river on the north and does not come within a hundred miles of Tehachapi Pass, yet in Washington it is called "The Southern California district" the moment its representative assumes national prominence. We shall hear next that Los Angeles intends to annex the outlying suburbs of San Francisco and Oakland.

The Evening Paper's Superiority.

The tremendous superiority of the evening paper as a quick transmitter of news has been strikingly demonstrated during the war between Russia and Japan. Every event of importance since the war began has been chronicled first in the evening papers—the morning journals have been left to amplify details, print confirmatory dispatches and add speculation to the facts already published. The afternoon newspaper is rapidly taking first place as the transmitter of first news of what occurs throughout the world. It gives the news hot from the bat as it were and reaches the reader fresh from the scene of action wherever that scene may be. Moreover, in the discussion of public affairs the utterances of the evening journal receive a keener and closer attention than the editorial opinions of the more hurriedly scanned morning papers. The evening paper is read in the quiet and leisure of the home after the day's work is done and the cares of business dismissed. What it says is digested with thoughtful attention, for it speaks at a time when the mind is in a receptive mood and amid surroundings the reverse of distracting. Often it is read aloud and the family circle joins in discussing what it has to say, the opinions it advocates and the conclusions it draws. So it is with advertising. The housewife carefully studies the evening paper in preparation for her shopping tour on the morrow. She has not time to do that with the morning paper while she is dressing and preparing to go out. Those who are in search of employment or desire to secure help look over the want ads at night to see where applications shall be made in the busy daylight hours. But above all, the living interest in the evening paper is its fresh, crisp story of the day's doings, in its stenographic record of the happenings of the hour. It is the Johnny-on-the-spot of the press—the morning paper is the Johnny-come-lately—a gleaner in the fields already reaped by the pioneer. When a paper's news columns are full of vivid interest, its advertising columns are correspondingly valuable to those who have something to sell. Thus to the reader and the advertiser alike the evening journal is most attractive. Day by day this is becoming more manifest. The war in the Orient is serving to give this manifestation a pith and point that the public is quickly grasping. It expresses the difference between going to bed knowing what has happened and waking up to find out what has occurred.

Judge Parker's promise not to accept a second term in the remotest event of his election has brought out the statement that Cleveland made a similar promise in his first inaugural address, and afterwards ran twice for the Presidency. The point is immaterial, but the statement is not quite correct. Mr. Cleveland made no promise not to be again a candidate, but he did suggest the advisability of increasing the term to six years and prohibiting Presidents from being their own successors. This has very properly been construed as an argument against second terms, but it is by no means a promise such as Judge Parker unequivocally made. Whether Cleveland violated an implied pledge is a question for debate, but it is of no importance as affecting this campaign. The question is, shall Parker be given a first term? not, shall he be given a second? When the first proposition is negated, as it will be at the polls, there is nothing to the other. A minor and subsidiary promise is as dead as the Dodo when the major and dominant promise disappears.

Russia's regard for neutrality is aptly illustrated by the situation at Shanghai. She obstinately refuses to either disarm her ships in the harbor or to withdraw in obedience to the order of the Chinese Government. China is a weak nation and cannot enforce her demands, so Russia makes a very sport of neutrality in a Chinese port but is quick enough to heed it in German and French ports. The situation produced by Russian contumacy is a delicate one. The foreign interests in Shanghai are enormous and the neutral powers will naturally be disposed to prevent an armed conflict in the harbor that might lead to the destruction of the city. That is probably the reason for an American warship anchoring between the Askold and the Japanese torpedo-boat destroyer. She had to do this to protect the warehouses and refinery of the Standard Oil Company. It appears likely that the powers will exert pressure on Russia to have her observe the laws of neutrality.

INSURANCE OF WAG-EARNERS IN GERMANY.

An exhibit of considerable sociological and economic interest in the Palace of Social Economy at the World's Fair at St. Louis is the compilation of statistics showing the general prevalence of workmen's insurance in Germany.

This insurance is mainly of three forms—against illness, against disability of old age, and against the disability of old age. The number of those insured against illness amounted in 1901 to 10,319,554, of whom 2,099,050 were women. The great increase in this line of insurance is indicated by the fact that the number so insured in 1885 was only 4,670,959.

Those protected by accident insurance include all workmen engaged in trade building navigation, etc., as well as in agriculture and forestry, the list including clerks and officials with an annual income up to 3,000 marks ($750) and small employers. The number of those thus insured amounted in 1902 to 17,582,000. The number of those insured against accident has likewise risen. It amounted to 600,000 in 1885, the first year of this insurance, and to 13,374,586 in 1889, when the agricultural accident insurance came into force.

To carry out the work of insurance against illness there existed in the empire in 1901 22,770 "sick clubs," with a total number of 10,319,554 members. Accident insurance is maintained on a mutual basis, in which employers of similar or related trades co-operate. Concerned in this form of insurance in 1902 there were 66 industrial trades associations, with 7,100,537 persons insured, and 48 agricultural associations, with a list of 11,189,071 policyholders. The total receipts of workmen's insurance funds for 1901 amounted to 526,593,726 marks. To each 100 marks the employers contributed 45.20 and the employees 37.64, while 6.13 was derived from the state and 10.73 from interest and earnings. The expenses for that year were 424,172,015 marks. An average daily benefit of more than one million marks was paid to persons insured. During 1902 a total of 711,380 cases of accident were indemnified. In that year there were 468,945 pensions for disability in force, this number increasing to 568,140 for the year 1903. The number of pensions for illness in 1904 was 14,186 and for old age 156,618. In the matter of insurance for disability the average amounts of the pensions granted were steadily rising. For the year 1901 the average rate amounted to 113.49 marks; for the year 1902 143.74 marks. The average pensions for illness are somewhat higher (1900, 147.73 marks; 1902, 154.13 marks). The average of old age pensions has risen from 124 marks in 1891 to 151.97 marks in 1902.

AUGUST.

Now come fulfillment of the year's desire. The tall wheat, colored by the August fall. Grew heavy-headed, dreiding its desire. And blacker grew the 'im trees day by day. About the edges of the yellow corn. And o'er the gardens grown some-what outworn. The bees were hurrying to fill up their store. The apple boughs bent over more and more. With peach and apricot: the garden wall. Was odorous, and the pears began to fall. From off the high tree with each freshening breeze. So in a house bordered about with trees. A little raised above the waving gold. The wanderers heard a marvelous story told. While 'twixt the gleaming flocks of white. They watched the reapers' slow advancing line. —William Morris, "Earthly Paradise"

Hints for the Ladies.

Girls who go in for burnt leather work are making stunning little house shoes of the leather in moccasin shape. The different parts of the shoes are laced together instead of being sewn.

If you have made all the bead belts and chains you care to, try your hand at candle shades. They are one of the prettiest uses to which beads are put and prove very effective on the dining table around the glass and silver.

For the bordering of Bulgarian work—tea cloths or table covers—scallopies are very pretty and should be worked in thick buttonhole satin-stitch. Damp and iron the work before cutting out the satin stitch. Coarse torchon lace can also be used for bordering cloths and other articles.

A pocket for overshoes, an article useful when traveling, may be made from a piece of canvas and old cloth, 12 by 17 inches, and one bunch of skirt braid. The canvas is lined with old cloth. Fold one end to form a pocket six inches deep. Round the flap and work in colored silk the word "Rubbers," or "Decorate" as desired. The edges are finished with a binding of skirt braid in some bright color. Fasten with braid passed around the pocket and tied in a bow-knot at round edge of the flap.

An inexpensive frock for home making requires about twelve yards of material. Allow three founces for the skirt trimming, spaced off to the knee, and edged with narrow lace. Skirt the top fullness in close rows, yoke deep. Make a full round bodice, and insert three rows of insertion just above the belt line. Make a shoulder collar of the material, and after cutting it out baste on rows of the insertion crossways—leaving a space, the width of the lace, between each row. Trim edge of collar with frill of muslin or lace. This collar finish is sufficient if a St. Cecilia neck is desired but if a high neck is preferred, add a band of insertion as high as needed and edge with lace. Make a pretty girdle of ribbon.

A girl who makes her own gowns recently bought a pretty remnant in pale blue and white dimity at 11 cents a yard, with quantities of lace beading for a trimming. The empire waist line was outlined with beading, through which ribbon, of the same shade of blue, was run. The point of the waist line at the back was finished with a flat rosette of ribbon. In the front it had a shawl bow which fell almost to the hem of the gown. The sleeves were slashed and outlined with beading and under the slashing some point de Paris lace, which had done duty on a party gown and had withstood the cleaning process, was tacked in. The neck was cut square and edged with the beading. With this little negligee she wears blue moccasins of soft kid, with little silk pompons.

NOON WEDDING AT PLEASANTON.

MISS LULU LOWRY BECOMES BRIDE OF DR. F. W. HARMS.

PLEASANTON, August 22.—A pretty wedding was celebrated at high noon on Wednesday, August 17, at the residence of Mrs. F. J. Harms, when Miss Lulu Lowry became the bride of Dr. F. W. Harms of Galt. The bride and groom entered the parlor to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, preceded by the best man and matron of honor, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Harms.

The ceremony was performed beneath a beautiful bridal bower by Rev. E. H. Avery, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of this city. The bride was gowned in a dainty dress of white silk and carried a pretty bouquet of white carnations.

After congratulations had been extended a bountiful repast was partaken of, to which it is needless to say, all did justice. The bride and groom left amid a shower of rice for San Francisco to spend their honeymoon, after which they will return to Galt, where they will make their future home.

Dr. and Mrs. Harms were the recipients of many handsome and useful presents which will help to adorn their new home.

The wedding guests were restricted to the immediate members of the family, the following being present: Mrs. McCurtner and Mrs. Anderson, mother and sister of the bride, Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Avery, Miss Jennie Avery, Dr. and Mrs. Cope, Miss L. Mackenzie, the Misses Ida, Minnie and Annie Harms, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Harms, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Harms, Mr. and Mrs. August H. ST. LOUIS, August 22.—World's Fair Grounds.—The world's fair livestock show opened today to continue until November 4 and is one of the principal features of the exposition. The scope of this enterprise, which extends to every department of livestock ranging from cattle and horses down to Belgian geese and hares, exceeds that of any other event in the history of livestock shows. The total valuation of the prizes to be awarded is placed at $400,000. The list of jurors appointed to judge the several exhibits includes the names of the foremost men in the livestock world. The livestock forum where all of the events are scheduled to take place is the largest arena ever erected for livestock shows.

Great interest is centered on the exhibit of horses, the first of the series of livestock shows which opens August 24. In number of entries this exhibit exceeds that of the Columbian exposition by over 100 per cent. Among the large list of 1600 entries, which include the best stallions and mares of both continents, the harness and saddle horses will predominate. The standard breeds and the thoroughbreds will rank second in importance, every prominent breeder in America being represented. The governments of France, Germany and Belgium also have arranged special exhibits over which the respective commissioners of these countries are in charge. The livestock buildings cover over 200 acres. The forum, the largest building on the livestock grounds, is 250x500 feet and has a seating capacity of 11,000.

A LARGE FREIGHT CARRIER.

NEW YORK, August 22.—Coming from the yards of her builders at New London, Conn., the steamer Minnesota, the largest American-built vessel of her kind and in point of tonnage, ranking fourth largest vessel in the world, has arrived off this port. The Minnesota will ply between Tacoma and Seattle and the Far East. While the Minnesota is to be classed as a passenger ship, she is intended to carry freight. She has a speed of fifteen knots, is 630 feet long, 73½ feet broad and has a net tonnage of 13,322.

NINETEEN INJURED.

ST. LOUIS, August 22.—Nineteen persons were injured in a rear-end collision between two Creve Coeur street cars. One car had stopped to repair a defect in the gearing when the second car came around the curve at full speed and crashed into the first. Most of the injured received the most severe injuries. The passengers received cuts and bruises. The street car company's physicians states none will die.

ROUTINE WORK OF SUPERVISORS.

MATTERS HANDLED AT THE SESSION THIS MORNING.

The Board of Supervisors met this morning with Supervisors Mitchell, Horner and Rowe present. The following routine business was transacted:

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH.

A letter relative to a Sanitary Conference formed by the State Board of Health and inviting Alameda county health officer to attend the meeting was read and referred to County Health Officer Tisdale. A copy of the communication follows:

"In an effort to establish a more perfect system of health and sanitary affairs, the State Board of Health has organized a Sanitary Conference which meets semi-annually. Its object is to promote health, prevent epidemics and establish a unity of action throughout the State. A well-posted health officer can save his county many times his salary, which is small, also many lives, by prompt and intelligent action.

"We respectfully ask you to send your county health officer to the next meeting of the Conference, which will be held in San Francisco, October 28, 1904, paying his necessary expenses. We feel sure that your county will be well repaid for the slight expense in improved sanitary conditions. Yours very truly,

"N. K. FOS'ER, Secretary, State Board of Health."

Upon motion of the attorneys for both parties, the hearing of the protest against Chris. Elfrede's application for a saloon license in upper Fruitvale was continued one week.

CHICAGO NOW HAS PURE WATER.

CHICAGO, August 22.—The weekly bulletin issued by the Health Department says that "no such healthful summer as this was ever reported for Chicago."

Favorable and equable temperature, an improving milk supply and at last pure water are the principal factors contributing to this result.

Of the water supply the bulletin says: "There is no obvious or plausible reason for the purity except the continuous action of the drainage channel. This is the fifth year that an average of more than 300,000 cubic feet of water, night and day, has been flowing from the lake down the Desplaines and Illinois valleys, and during this time there has been a steady reduction in deaths from the impure water diseases."

PLYMOUTH AVENUE CHURCH TO JOIN THE PRESBYTERIANS.

As an aftermath of the scandal into which the Rev. Charles Hoag plunged the Plymouth Avenue Congregational Church, the congregation has decided to change its faith and become Presbyterian. In its denomination instead of Congregational. The question of changing from one creed to the other will be submitted to the members of the church for ratification or rejection.

Since the Hoag episode clouded the religious sky of the church there has been little light which would lead the church out of the darkness. It was proposed to unite with other churches of the same denomination but the members of both churches could not agree on terms. The proposal to unite with the Fourth Avenue Congregational Church was for a time viewed with much favor but finally was abandoned. When this measure fell through the church decided to reorganize and maintain an independent existence.

This plan has been followed out and now in furtherance of it a meeting will be called to see if all of the members are not ready to embrace the Presbyterian faith.

All of the trustees are said to favor the plan and little opposition is expected by Deacon Volce and others who have had the matter in charge.

HUMPHREY AT THE MACDONOUGH.

The initial performance by the Humphrey-Chapman Company was given at the Macdonough Theater last night. The house was crowded and the audience rose to the occasion and welcomed the company. The play was a melodrama of the old-fashioned type, with the full allotment of hero, heroine, villain, heart-broken mother, stern and unrelenting father, and the several other small characters that are always necessary. Orval Humphrey was given a splendid reception when he made his first appearance, and made a distinct hit in the leading role.

The company is well balanced and lived up to the reputation given them by the press agent. Miss Elsa Van Brohm, the leading lady of the company, gave promise by her work in this piece that she will be really excellent in some of the parts later on in the week that will give her greater opportunities.

"Knobs o' Tennessee" will be repeated for the last time tonight and will be followed tomorrow night by a new and laughable farce entitled "O, What a Night!" "Buried at Sea," the great dramatic novelty, will be given on Wednesday and Thursday nights, with all the wealth of the original production. "The Young Mrs. Winthrop" will be the attraction on Friday night and at the matinee on Saturday. "The Lynne" will be given. The bill for the last two performances will be "Heath and Home," which will be played on Saturday and Sunday nights. Seats are now on sale for all of the performances and the prices are 10 cents, 20 cents and 30 cents, no higher.

COMEDY AT THE LIBERTY THEATER.

"Mr. Potter of Texas," a dramatization of one of Gunter's best novels, will be the attraction at Ye Liberty Playhouse this week, commencing tonight. The drama is one of the cleverest on the American stage today and the varied career of Potter will be found entertaining in the extreme. Although strong in action, the play is filled with an irresistible comedy. From beginning to end it will be found brilliant and entertaining. Much handsome scenery will be used. Some exquisite gowns will also be in evidence, which will be admired by at least the feminine portion of the audience.

ROOM THIEVES CONTINUE TO SECURE FOOTHOLD IN THIS CITY.

Room burglars secured three silver watches from the apartments of T. M. Suda, 415 Seventh street, Saturday night during the occupant's absence. A systematic search of the rooms was made but the watches were the only things of value taken.

Berry Mite who resides at 1309 Broadway, also reports that his room was entered on the same night and an alarm clock, valise and underwear stolen.

There have been a series of burglaries of this description committed within the last few days and the police believe that one or two thieves are responsible for all of the thefts.

MINER IS PUTTING ON THE FINISHING TOUCHES FOR BIG FIGHT.

OCEANSIDE S. F. AUGUST 1950

OCEANSIDE, S. F., August 22.—Jack Mummie is now putting on the finishing touches for the battle with Sam Deffenbach at the Mechanics' Pavilion, San Francisco, on next Friday night. He has consulted with his trainers, Kid McCoy and Tim McGrath, on the subject of weight, and the trimmante has declined that Deffenbach is about the proper figure for the pound he will reach before he steps into the arena. Deffenbach is rather a low one and it goes without saying that Mummie make it without saving that he will not Munroe should train as Jeffries does.

The champion just gets into condition and pays no attention to the scales. He has sense enough to appreciate that if he is a fix it makes no difference what he weighs. In these advanced days raclaunched on the road to-day. The trainer started with the mine but bade the husky fellow to jog on after he was out of sight of camp. Tim plodded along and managed to turn and strike a position that landed him at home with the great heavy weight. After returning to the gymnasium Munroe was rubbed down. He then donned a swimming suit and took a plunge in the briny. He enjoyed the sea bath and came up in a glow.

After another rubdown Munroe until dinner when he partook of his usual allowance of portelhouse steak and the whites of eggs. In the afternoon he joined Kid McCoy in another closed session in the gymnasium. Just what the Eastern boy teaches his student is not known, but it is worthy of mention that the glant. He advised the Gotham sports to have a bet on Munroe as he is sure of winning through the fierce pace he will set for Jeffries.

Harry Pollock also hit the wire. He sent a yellow-winged message to Young Corbett informing him that Munroe is line as six. He will win, he said, as he will be able to outbustle the big fellow.

It is evident that Munroe's managers are building on the proposition that the champion has gone back and will not be so good as formerly. At this time they should not overlook the fact that it was reported prior to the last match with Corbett that Jeffries was in miserable shape and that he would not be able to put up a good fast fight.

Yet in that memorable battle the big fellow made the cleverest showing he has yet given. He carried the battle to Corbett and in a clever exhibition out-scenced him. It should not be forgotten, however, that in the eighth round Jeffries wilted and had Corbett been any good he could have then gone in and finished him. Pollock claims that Munroe will score where the Olympian failed.

Professor Hecker, of the Royal Geodetic Institute, Makes Important Observations.

BERKELEY, August 22.—After a stay of five weeks, Professor Hecker of the Royal Geodetic Institute has just completed a series of important observations at the University Observatory and at the Lick Observatory and will leave for Japan tomorrow on the steamer Manchuria. He carries with him a formidable battery of scientific instruments, consisting of an astronomical transit, clocks, pendulums and magnetic instruments.

Professor Hecker's expedition is under the auspices of the International Geodetic Association, which has appropriated 20,000 marks for his trip. The purpose of Professor Hecker's observations is to determine surface gravity at sea, observations being made on board of ship in transit between ports, and specific gravity on land at selected stations. Besides gravity observations, he conducts magnetic observations. These latter are of such refinement that his instruments are affected by electric cars passing at a distance of ten miles. It is on this account that the magnetic observations were conducted at Mount Hamilton, while all other observations were made at Berkeley, only at the student observatory. Professor Hecker hopes to determine from his observations the shape of the MALARIA IMPURE AIR Malaria is not confined exclusively to the swamps is bad air this insidious foe to health is found. Poisonous vapors and gases from sewers, and the musty air of damp cellars are laden with the germs of this miserable disease, which are breathed into the lungs and taken up by the blood and transmitted to every part of the body. Then you begin to feel out of sorts without ever suspecting the cause. No energy or appetite, dull headaches, sleepy and tired and completely fagged-out from the slightest exertion, are some of the deplorable effects of this enfeebling malarial. As the disease progresses and the blood becomes more deeply poisoned, boils and abscesses and dark or yellow spots appear upon the skin. When the poison is left to ferment and the microbes and germs to multiply in the blood, the treatment to be effective must begin there too. S.S.S. destroys the germs and is a guaranteed purely vegetable remedy. Write us if you want medical advice or any special information. This will cost you nothing.

LABOR STRUGGLE IS NOW ON.

BUILDING OPERATIONS WILL SUFFER WHILE THE FIGHT IS ON.

NEW YORK, August 22.—The real struggle in the present building strike here begins today, and it possibly will be one of the most extensive yet experienced. On the one side is arrayed the Building Trades Employers' Association, which controls the greatest part of the building work at Manhattan and the Bronx and a part of Brooklyn. On the other are the unions in the Building Trades Alliance, and also a number of others not affiliated with the alliance, but which are likely to be drawn in.

All the unions involved in the strikes and lockouts received notice from the Building Trades Employers' Association last week that work would be resumed today and that if the strikes in their respective trades were not declared off non-union men or union men would be employed indiscriminately in their places. The plan of the employers is to form these new men into unions under the arbitration agreement. These proposed unions are to be the only ones recognized by the employers' association and the members of the old ones could only obtain work by joining the new organization. Of the unions which are not in the Building Trades Alliance, there are a number of which, according to the representatives, will refuse to work with non-union men, but not out of sympathy with the alliance. Among these is the Housecarp and Bridge-men's Union.

In the meantime there are no signs of a settlement of the subway tie-up. The conference proposed last week with Contractor McDonald failed to materialize.

Zronski and Yinan, both of whom were members of the Second Regiment, Illinois National Guard, decided to go in bathing. Neither of the young men could swim, but both dived into the water with the intention of staying close to the beach. The two ventured out farther than they expected, when they saw scores of persons swimming, and it is believed they were attacked with cramps. Before rescuers were able to reach them the young men sank.

TWO YOUNG MEN DROWNED IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, August 22.—In sight of scores of bathers, many of whom attempted to rescue them, two young men have been drowned in the lake at the foot of Robbins Terrace. The victims were Martin Zronski, 22 years old, and John Yinan, 19 years old.

Zronski and Yinan, both of whom were members of the Second Regiment, Illinois National Guard, decided to go in bathing. Neither of the young men could swim, but both dived into the water with the intention of staying close to the beach. The two ventured out farther than they expected, when they saw scores of persons swimming, and it is believed they were attacked with cramps. Before rescuers were able to reach them the young men sank.

"In what light would the packers regard a contract with the butcher workers after these events? What argument could the union leaders adduce in favor of such a contract or in favor of arbitration?"

"The packers had agreements with the cur workers and some other labor organizations, by which the men were normally bound not to strike. Yet, when the butcher workers were seen to be so much in the wrong that they could not enforce their demands, these contract-bound workers laid down their tools in sympathetic strike. Again the agreement now so stoutly contended for, was willfully torn up. Now can truthfully say that the owners of the plants have opposed trade unions. They asked their employees as to their affiliation with labor organizations, or with any association. They knew when the various unions were being formed in their plants and they did not in the least attempt to prevent their formation."

"In conclusion, it cannot be stated too strongly that the packers will not enter into any agreement with the butchers. Experience has proven that negotiations with an organization that has absolutely no regard for the inviolability of contract is a foolish waste of time."

Patrick took up the affairs of Michael Brush, convicted of having killed Policeman Enright, who it was claimed, caught Brush in the act of committing a burglary in Harlem last March. Brush's lawyers refused to appeal from the verdict of the jury, and their client was sentenced to die in the electric chair. The prisoner soon began to explain his affairs to the other prisoners and Patrick finally took them in hand. He dictated a notice of District Attorney's office as well as to the court. This acted as a stay against the execution of sentence, but the appeal shortly comes up for argument and whether Patrick will be permitted to appear as counsel is doubtful.

PACKERS' ISSUE STATEMENT.

WILL NOT MAKE ANY AGREEMENT WITH THE STRIKING BUTCHERS.

CHICAGO, August 22.—The packers have issued an official statement defining their position in the stockyards controversy and declaring that they will not enter into any agreement with the striking butchers' workmen. In reviewing the causes leading up to the strike, the packers point out that they offered to submit the entire matter to arbitration and that their offer was refused.

After the strike was called, they state that they again took up negotiations with the butcher workmen and at the end of a week an agreement was reached which was considered fair to both parties. Before there was a chance to put this agreement into effect the cattle butchers held a meeting and decided to ignore the contract and the second strike was ordered. The statement concludes with the following:

"In what light would the packers regard a contract with the butcher workers after these events? What argument could the union leaders adduce in favor of such a contract or in favor of arbitration?"

"The packers had agreements with the cur workers and some other labor organizations, by which the men were normally bound not to strike. Yet, when the butcher workers were seen to be so much in the wrong that they could not enforce their demands, these contract-bound workers laid down their tools in sympathetic strike. ## PATRICK DRAWS UP AN APPEAL.

NEW YORK, August 22.—It has just developed that Albert T. Patrick, the lawyer who is in Sing Sing prison under sentence of death in the William March Rice case, but who now has an appeal pending, recently added a fellow prisoner in securing a temporary stay which has served to prolong his life.

Patrick took up the affairs of Michael Brush, convicted of having killed Policeman Enright, who it was claimed, caught Brush in the act of committing a burglary in Harlem last March. Brush's lawyers refused to appeal from the verdict of the jury, and their client was sentenced to die in the electric chair. The prisoner soon began to explain his affairs to the other prisoners and Patrick finally took them in hand. He dictated a notice of District Attorney's office as well as to the court. This acted as a stay against the execution of sentence, but the appeal shortly comes up for argument and whether Patrick will be permitted to appear as counsel is doubtful.

HANNAH PRESSINGER DEAD. NEW YORK, August 22.—Hannah E. Van Wart Pressinger, a grand daughter of Isaac Van Wart, one of the patriots who captured Major John André on the Tarrytown road in 1780, is dead at her home in Brooklyn. Her father was a Methodist minister.

LATE NEWS FROM PORT ANTHUR.

JAPANESE KEEP UP THE SHELLING AND WILL TRY TO WEAR OUT SLAV.

CHE FOO, August 22 (noon).—The Chinese just arrived, who bring the latest information from Port Arthur, were employed by the Russian military authorities caring the dead off the field and also ammunition, which they say is plentiful, confirm the statement that the Liaotai promontory was not assaulted for the reason that it is impregnable from the easle and the Japanese are unable to move on it from the north.

The Japanese main attack has been the heaviest against the Russian center and right, particularly against the center, fronting while the Japanese have taken up a strong position at Shushien.

Pigeon bay had been the scene of fighting several days before the final assault had begun, the Japanese never being able to hold for long any territory they might gain. Their attacks were made mostly at night, during foggy days and misty mornings.

The Japanese believe that their superior physical condition will win the battle for them by wearing the Russian garrison, which is constituted of less hardened material, down to the point of exhaustion by the persistency of their attacks and their refusal to accept a repulse.

The temperature of the Russian garrison is sagged and determined. General Sossel, who is heavy, rides ceaselessly in his chair, which are showing the strain upon him, although the general changes his mounts frequently.

Both officers and soldiers have grown indifferent to the shells which enter the town frequently. Recently the Chinese theater was hit and a score of people were killed and wounded.

One shell exploded in the corral of the Chinese, who tell the story, killing five donkeys.

Civilians are allowed to leave the bomb-proofs during the lulls in artillery fire, but these permissions are rare and everybody is worn and anxious over the situation.

An unusually large proportion of young company officers have been killed, which is partly owing to their duties and much to their reckless daring. While the Russians apparently believe they will hold the Japanese in check, their confidence in successful resistance is not absolute.

The Japanese have guns mounted on nearly all the hills which formerly formed Russian outposts and their fire is so accurate that the hospitals and Chinese houses are full of Russian wounded.

The Chinese go on to say that the dead and ready for burial are stored in a warehouse and there are buried in the outskirts of the town, quick lime being used freely to prevent infection.

Three large ships and two gunboats are being repaired in the dockyards, and in the basin the other ships lie in shelter behind the Tiger's Tail.

Junks now depart from the Liaotai-shan lighthouse.

NAVAL ATTACKES TREATED WELL.

TSING TAU, August 21.—According to what Major Hoffman, the German military attaché at Port Arthur, who has just arrived here, said in a guarded interview today, the foreign naval attaches during the last few days of their stay there were quartered on the Tiger's Tail, where a butery 600 feet high prevented them from witnessing the naval battle on August 10. Shells often burst in their vicinity, but they did not consider themselves in a dangerous position on that account. The attaches were treated with great consideration, but were allowed no place from which to view the naval operations.

Before leaving Lieutenant Newton A. McCully, U. S. N., the American naval attaché, was quartered in the old town. Shortly after starting for Pigeon bay to take a junk for Che Foo a shell struck his house and wrecked it. Major Hoffman, in commenting upon the affair, remarked that it was lucky, for this reason, that Lieutenant McCully had left when he did.

But few women and children remain at Port Arthur.

ALL READY FOR HAD A BATTLE LABOR DAY. ON THE ROAD.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR THE PARADE AND OTHER FEATURES.

The general labor day committee has completed arrangements for the celebration of Labor Day in this city on September 5. All details, even to the most minute, have been satisfactorily covered, and the various unions are eagerly awaiting the dawn of the day which will mark one of the most stupendous demonstrations of its kind ever held in this country. There has been no difficulty in obtaining the promise of the majority of the unions to turn out in full force and the showings made will unquestionably be decidedly impressive. At the close of the parade the big barbecue will be held at Idora Park, to which the public will be invited.

Charles W. Peery, president of the Central Labor Council, will be chairman of the day, while George K. Smith of the Barbers' Union will be guard marshal. His aides are to be A. W. C. Schaffer, of the Butchers' Union; second division, F. Dabke of Carpenters' Union, No. 36; third division, J. P. Sale of the Longshoremen's Union; fourth division, T. J. Hopkins of the Machinists' Union.

R. B. Harlan of the carpenters is to have charge of the barbecue.
